

Copyright and privacy statement

Copyright

Upon acceptance of an article, the following terms are applied to its publication: 1) authors retain copyright and grant the journal right of first publication with the work simultaneously licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution License; 2) authors grant the Czech Scientific Society for Mycology to produce printed volumes of the journal for sale. See Sharing and promoting your article for further details.

Sharing and promoting your article

Sharing and promoting your article is an important part of research and we encourage authors to do this without any restrictions. Authors are permitted to post their work online (e.g. personal website, institutional repositories, self-archiving platforms such as ResearchGate) after its initial publication in this journal. The favoured way is to share a URL link (e.g. as part of a blank PDF file) to the full text instead of the PDF itself.

Open access information

All articles published by CM are immediately made available worldwide under an open access Creative Commons licence. This means that everyone has free and unlimited access to the full text, and everyone is free to re-use the published material if proper accreditation/citation of the original publication is given. Once selected, Creative Commons user licenses are non-revocable. We recommend authors to check if their funding body requires a specific licence.

Author fees

Author fees are not required. Czech Scientific Society for Mycology covers the expenses related to the processing of your submissions and open access publishing. Complete or partial covering of publication costs in the case of colour figures is appreciated. For details, contact the Editor.

Privacy statement

The names and addresses entered in this journal as well as submitted items (manuscripts and related files – tables, images etc.) will be used exclusively for the stated purposes of this journal and will not be made available for any other purpose or to any other party.